Electronic Manufacturing

The UK Electronics Manufacturing market is a varied and dynamic sector, ranging from small-components manufacturers for consumer appliances through to the automotive industry and electronics that go into aircraft or other complex machinery. We have a wealth of expertise in this area and our upgraded Electronics Manufacturing proposition goes beyond insurance so we can help protect what matters most, prevent bad things happening and fix things fast when they do go wrong.

What type of cases are we interested in writing?

- Electronic process control equipment
- Medical and surgical equipment
- Measuring and testing equipment
- Electronic components and sub-assemblies
- Electronic communication

We'll now write businesses who supply to medical, military, offshore and, in most cases, aviation industries.
