

Business Resilience

Business resilience is the ability a company has to quickly adapt to disruptions while keeping the business going, as well as looking after staff, assets and the overall reputation of the business. Being prepared for a potential crisis in your business is essential to survival.

Did you know?

- The current top 5 key disruptions to UK businesses include unplanned IT and telecom outages, adverse weather, interruption to utility supply, cyber-attack and security incident.*
- The Cyber Resilience Report found that nearly two-thirds of respondents (64%) to the global survey had experienced at least one cyber disruption during the previous 12 months, while almost 1 in 6 (15%) had experienced at least 10.*
