

Module 2 Key Challenges of Running a Broker

Being an effective leader of people starts with understanding what motivates them and how using motivators can effectively improve performance and morale. During module 2 we discussed how effective leaders find an equal balance with their focus and time.

We took time to understand the blockages to motivation and how to overcome these, releasing a person's full potential. We also looked at how to create and develop effective teams which are crucial in a successful business model.

Interested in the challenges of running a broker– check out the following modules available on Dev Zone:

General Data Protection Regulation Pathway

Team Formation - Introduction

Improving Team Performance - Pathway

<http://mydevelopment.zone/>

